

Orchard Ridge Madison, WI

The Orchard Ridge real estate market is located south of the Beltline and north of Raymond Road between Whitney Way and Verona Road on Madison's southwest side. This area of Madison features mid-century homes built on large lots, a neighborhood pool, two public schools, and a well-established neighborhood association. Most of the houses in Orchard Ridge were built in the 1950s and 1960s. This part of Madison features tree-lined streets and a wide selection of ranch style homes, many of which are built on lots that are a third of an acre in size or more. The home owners here benefit from a convenient location that offers excellent access to all of Madison's west side and a 10 minute drive to downtown Madison.
